

Victim's Perspective

I used to sleep for at least 10 hours
But now I lay awake in my bed
Thinking about all the screams of the children and adults
The shooting doesn't leave my mind
No matter how many times I hear it will get better
It will not get better
It will never get better because it will happen
Again
Again
And
Again
No one is taking any action
The government is neglecting us
You might be able to sit on the sidelines
Doing nothing
But I can't allow more people to die
Our voices matter
If America doesn't take action
We will have to watch more innocent people die
At the hands of people who are misunderstood
When a mass shooting happens people say that they don't deserve this
It is not their fault
But it is your fault
You people are the reason

You bully
Racially discriminate
And harass people who are a part of the ever growing LGBTQ community
So maybe if they were not judged for being different their whole life
They wouldn't have a motive to come for revenge
And more innocent people would get to go home
I would get to go home and see my husband again
But because your past actions
They had to come back for revenge
People lost their spouses
Their family
Their kids
I lost my husband
Because their were killed in the crossfire of your stupid fude!
